Some Periodical Protests For The Friends Of Well Founded Sport On The Turf

SEVERAL weeks ago in this column of THE CHRONICLE some observations were offered upon the case of the jockey, Eddie Arcaro. Considered one of our most capable riders, his career has been a rather spotted one, with lights and shadows alternating.

Just at present he may be defined as in eclipse. As a punishment for his rough-riding in the Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga, following almost at once upon his reinstatement after a 30-day set-down for similar conduct at the Empire City meeting, he was grounded by the stewards there and his case referred to The Jockey Club for final adjudication.

That body, after its stewards had examined the evidence, announced that Arcaro's license had been suspended for the rest of the year. Which means that he cannot ride again until 1942.

In commenting upon this case, before The Jockey Club had acted, it was stated that while, owing to the prominence of the parties involved, the personal angle was outstanding, at the same time the issue presented was something transcending anything of that kind.

The reason being that the Arcaro incident is nothing at all unusual; merely the latest in the endless succession of similar ones which provide what is, in plain words, a disgrace to the American turf.

This being nothing more nor less than the chronic insubordination of our jockeys, as a class; the frequency with which they have to be dis-

KENTUCKY FAIR INCLUDES CLASS FOR HUNTERS

The Kentucky State Fair Horse Show catalogue of the entire week of the show, September 6-13 was a voluminous affair of 114 pages mainly featuring 3 and 5 gaited grand and world championship classes. However a hunter and a jumper division was carried this year for the 1st time and classes were successfully filled with some 56 horses on hand.

This 40th annual fair under the auspices of the Kentucky State Fair Board, headed by Governor Keen Johnson, of Frankfort, Ky., chairman and J. W. Jones, of North Middleton, Ky., president, is possibly the biggest horse show event of its kind.

Invader Captures Broad Hollow For 2nd Time

Mr. Hitchcock's Redlands
Wins Stonewood Steeplechase
By 12 Lengths

The outstanding moment in the past week of steeplechasing was undoubtedly the opening win at the Belmont Park session when Thomas Hitchcock's Redlands made his 2nd start a winning one and took the Stonewood Steeplechase by some 12 lengths. There were two cracking 3-year-olds in this event which saw 10 parading. For a time it looked that the race would be between the youngsters, Redlands and Montpelier's Jacket, but the latter put in a bad one at the 10th; Jockey Clements lost an iron, so that he couldn't give the Blenheim II filly the best for the remaining 2 fences and through the stretch.

Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's The Beak, a 5-year-old, 142, conceding 8 pounds, to Redlands, son of The Country Life Farms' Legume, a Maryland-bred, would have been more of a factor but for many bobbles. When Mrs. Clark first got this English son of Portlaw over here, he was thought to be one of the best stake prospects in some years. He was brought out this spring. So far he has started 8 times and only once before was 2nd (to Ossabaw in Saratoga), but thrice he's finished 3rd. Despite his failure to get into the winners' circle, he

Limited Risk Best At Youngsville For Miss Cary

BY "CONTRIBUTOR"

The Youngsville Horse Show, held in conjunction with the Youngsville Community Fair, at Youngsville, Pa., on September 5-6, turned out to be a "big little" moment on the Pennsylvania horse show calendar. The committee had a very good thought in having all the local classes the 1st day, so that out of town exhibitors needed only to have their horses on hand for one day, which included an afternoon and evening performance, the latter in a nicely lighted ring. The show, a great success, carded a stake class in both the hunter and jumper divisions for the first time.

The outstanding hunter of the show was Miss Allitheia M. B. Cary's Limited Risk who, fresh from his triumphs at Hamburg, N. Y., and the Empire State Show at Syracuse,

Inky Champion At Farmington, Anne Hill Up

It once was a one day show—it's two days now! It used to be all local, for cups and ribbons for which the Farmington members would compete, now there's money awards in all the classes, stakes and silver challenge trophies attracting exhibitors for miles around. The Farmington Hunt Club Horse Show, in its 8th renewal, held in the Farmington Country Club Show ring last Friday and Saturday, September 19-20, near Charlottesville, Va., was a full-fledged fixture. There were over 600 entries deluging the 35 classes, to perhaps be the largest show of the season in the Old Dominion.

Under the genial general chairmanship of James H. Blackwell, Farmington's exhibition has grown into the big time. Still despite the pecuniary prizes to draw 'em from afar, there was such a good balance of local events that the pleasant amateur hour tempo of the past was sustained.

There were the Garths, the Joneses, the Keiths, the Rineharts and the Wises, families, all, contributing generously to the success of the affair. W. Alonzo Rinehart was a 3-star-ring chairman, painstaking and unceasing he worked to hold to a 20th century limited time schedule. More young Rineharts were taking part in pony classes as well. Mrs. William Garth, patrician sports-woman she is, was on hand to witness superlative riding triumphs of her children and her children's children, as son Hugh and daughter

Ard Clu Triumphs In Open Jumping At Attica Show

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

Ard Clu, James S. Meisenzahl's son of Lough Foyle came through in fine style at the Attica (N. Y.) Horse Show on Sunday, Sept. 20, to win a truly spectacular knock down and out class after five jumps-off and height; five-feet-six. His closest rival was Mr. and Mrs. William C. Faugh Jr.'s Judge; who, with Ard Clu, Margold's Fidget owned by Patrick J. Gerace, and Miss Allitheia M. B. Cary's Little Thunder by War Call, were clean the first time around; and in the final jump off Judge went out on the first jump and Ard Clu the second. Earlier in the afternoon Ard Clu won the open jumping with second to C. A. Wards Capella by Harmonicon; the middle

Henchman Makes Racing Return At Whitemarsh

William J. Clothier's Gelding
Opening Bid Winning One
After Injury

BY JOHN H. ZANE

Henchman, William J. Clothier's top performer of last autumn's post and rail season, came back to the races at Whitemarsh, Pa., Saturday, Sept. 20, after an enforced retirement from a training injury in the spring, and stepped right back in his winning stride to capture with ease the 4th running of the 3rd renewal of the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup, and repeat his victory of last year.

With his regular rider, Lieutenant E. R. Owen, now in the Air Corps, Mr. Jackie Bosley came up from Maryland to pilot Mr. Clothier's black son of Cohort—Donatoff, and a grand job Mr. Bosley did.

A perfect afternoon greeted upwards of 2,000 spectators as they journeyed to Erdeneheim, Mr. George D. Widener's beautiful estate, for Whitemarsh's 22nd annual fall meeting, the opener of the Philadelphia season. There was a note of apprehension, however, because of the condition of the turf, hard as concrete through lack of heavy rain for seven weeks. The infield grass was uncut, and offered some protection to the jumpers, but that of about a mile of the timber course, out in the country, had been well cropped by the Widener herd.

Although at least 3 of the contestants in the 4 jumping events pulled up lame and although there

Jitney Jingle Adds New Championship In Winning Tour

BY NANCY GADDIS HELLER

Jitney Jingle, owned by Mrs. Sallie Jones Sexton's Bryn Du Farm, of Granville, Ohio, continued his triumphant drive through the Eastern show circuit when he captured both the conformation and working hunter tri-colors at Plainfield last Sat. Sept. 20. Winning blues in all four of the working classes, he had a perfect score of 20 points to take this championship. In the conformation division, he took 1st in the ladies', amateur and stake, but was put down to the red in the hack and

Front Royal's Dog vs. Horse

Who can jump the highest, horse or dog? The argument will be settled in Virginia, at least, at the Front Royal Remount on Saturday afternoon, September 27th when the Depot is staging a rodeo and gymkhana the proceeds of which are to be used to support next year's horse show. Bucking horses, steers, cows and calves will furnish entertainment as well as a gymkhana put on by the Depot soldiers including jumping, a mounted tug of war and high jumping contest.

Piping Rock's Thirty-ninth

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 2 to 5 the Piping Rock Horse Show Association with Harvey D. Gibson, President will hold their 39th annual horse show. This event has come to be known as one of the best and most efficiently run shows on the entire circuit. This year should be no exception. Ned King is managing this year's show with William S. Blitz and Herbert Ingram honorary secretary and secretary. Judges include the most imposing list of horsemen seen together for some time. Edward H. Carle, ex-M. F. H. and Edward S. Voss, M. F. H. are judging the breeding classes. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bedford will handle the extensive Children's classes, ponies and bridle hacks. Hunters will have Mrs. Ambrose Clark, Mrs. Edgar Scott, Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr., Edward S. Voss, M. F. H. and Ernest I. White. Jumpers will be pinned by Harry T. Peters, M. F. H., Gerard S. Smith and S. Bryce Wing, ex-M. F. H.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1941

The cub hunting season started in total darkness at 6 a. m. last Thursday. Official permission was granted to give the first two cub hunting mornings to the children but with the stern stipulation that hounds should move off at the stroke of six. "Anything later than this", boomed the voice of the Senior Master, over the telephone, "will find the dew gone and the scent with it."

Only a well disciplined army of automatons could have carried out this order, as at the appointed hour nothing was visible, not even your own hand. At 6:10 precisely a grey and wet dawn lifted the curtain and all the children I had thought were colored turned out to be white and the 31 black horses, bay, chestnuts and grays.

Allison had the dog pack 17 couple strong, of which some 8 couple were puppies. The children as usual were divided into two sections, jumping and non-jumping and the first group drew for positions on the hunt staff. We met at the Ralph Ellis gate and before we reached the Ambrose Clark fields, we met two mounted small English refugees who had ridden some 2 miles cross country by the light of nothing whatsoever. They looked a little pale but it was not long before their color returned.

The field numbered 31, of which 19 were children and of these, 6 were British. How good it is to see these young ones hunting and to know that the happiness they find through the sport in America may outweigh the burdens of homesickness and misunderstanding which they have to carry.

Not until Allison drew the covert north of the Clark stables did hounds find and by that time, of course, the dew had vanished and scent also. However, hounds jumped this fox and so the first few minutes were a mad dash and the young had a good gulp of delicious terror. After this, the old dog hounds worked very hard while 5 couple of puppies joined Allison waiting in a meadow high with grass and behaved most unseemingly by chasing each other around and around their huntsman's horse. The more sober members of the pack eventually worked their fox to ground in the S. W. Ellis wood.

FRANKSTOWN HUNT

Altoona, Pennsylvania.
Established 1933.
Recognized 1938.

Thursday, September 4—6:30 A. M.

14 1-2 couple of English and Cross-bred, 9 in the field.

The Red Cross Grey Cubs of The Frankstown Hunt better be on the lookout as the cubbing season started this morning at 6:30. I couldn't sleep last night in anticipation of the opening of the new hunting season, and to start out in the dark this morning was a real thrill and treat, dear to the heart of any hunting man.

The Master, Mr. Winter, and huntsman Newell, handled the pack which included some new hounds from Rolling Rock and, of course, our young entry. The hounds were cast in the willows below the Hunt Club which they hunted through diligently but did not raise a scent. From there we packed to the Loudon thorn patch on the hill where they found the line and carried along at a good pace over the ridge towards Hollidaysburg. From there, they circled into the Sportsman's meadow and, turning right, moved through the Gromiller Pines and checked back of the Loudon orchards. They were lifted at this point and taken through Calvin's orchards and hunted all through the city wood lot and meadows to the Good farm where they checked again and were returned to the kennel.

It was a short hunt and a hot one, which was hard on the fat and out of condition hunters, as well as the riders.

Saturday, September 6—7:00 A. M.

14 couple of English and Cross-bred, 15 in the field.

This was another hot sultry morning but in spite of that the hounds ran very well for about the first hour, and then it became too dry and hot and they lost their keenness.

We are well pleased with the young entry as they show great likeness. The orchard back of Calvin's was drawn blank. However, the hounds found a line in the corn field above the orchard and hunted over that section through the County Home farms, the city pasture and wood lot, the filter beds, and from there crossed at the Five Points and hunted the home country pretty thoroughly, to the "kill" near the kennels.

Thursday, September 11—6:30 A. M.

14 1-2 couple of English and Cross-bred, 8 in the field.

It was warm last night and rained one-fourth of an inch. Scenting was excellent, proving the theory that if the earth is warmer than the air above scenting is good.*

The hounds were cast into the hickory woods above the kennels and found, and were off like a shot. Your scribe kept back to take it easy at first and before I realized it the hounds were gone. Starting in the direction I thought they had gone and with the feeling of disgust which must come over all hunters left behind, I hurried along. Presently, I came on the ex-Master, C. E. Maloy, then on one of the whips, Col. Paul Vipond, and then on that infrepid fat hunter, Dr. John Shaffer. After that, I didn't feel so badly. We decided that the earth had open-

Identify Heads Eastern Bred Spotlight

Progeny Of Eastern Bred Sires Total $76,517 In Earnings During Week

The week of September 17-23 showed a marked improvement in the accomplishments of Eastern-bred sires. Three sires finished in a dead heat with 4 winners each. However, taking into consideration the total purses won, Maryland's Crack Brigade with $3,225, leads New Jersey's Catalan with $2,500, and Virginia's Sun Briar with $2,335.

The real spotlight, however, falls on Identify, son of Man o' War—Footprint, as the victory of Petrify accounted for a purse of $17,710 in the Matron Stakes at Belmont Park which also clinched her claim as the outstanding 2-year-old filly of the season.

Monies won went up to $76,517.50 and in a like manner, the number of victors rose to 88. Maryland-bred sires won $34,405 to provide an upset and displace the long-reigning Virginia-bred who won $33,292.50. The Old Dominion still retains the lead with the largest number of winners, 49, while Maryland had 24. New Jersey-breds accounted for 12, with purses of $6,755 and New Hampshire, West Virginia and Massachusetts had 1 each.

Sept. 17—G. D. Widener's Birch Rod, 5-year-old son of Pompey, went into the winner's circle in his 3rd start at Aqueduct, having placed in 2 previous races. Birch Rod made a stout run of it to win over Night Editor who was making his 1st start since another Eastern-bred Watch Over, romped away from him at Narragansett on the 6th.—That game gray mare who accounted for 3 purses at Charles Town and 1 at Hagerstown was "at home" again at Wheeling Downs. Never Home, (Tournament II—My Idol), was a victor by 1-2 length.

Sept. 18—Sun Briar, at the ripe old age of 26, leads the sires on this day. At Narragansett Sun Fighter (Pugnacity II, by Gay Crusader), and Briar Rose (Parade Trail, by Grand Parade), proved to be worthy progeny of the great sire as well as Dark Sun, (Dark Thorn, by Trumper) who led the field home at Wheeling Downs.—At Narragansett he had a grand-son, Last Frontier, by Sun Beau, a winner.—By virtue of the Gino-bred Gino Beau (Beauflower, by Sun Beau), chalking up a victory at Havre de Grace, another laurel goes to Sun Briar, in the great grandsons division.

Sept. 19—Houghton P. Metcalf's Sals' Sister, home-bred and raised by Abbot's Nymph—Big Sally, made her initial start on Sept. 6 at Narragansett. She left the maiden ranks today, never seriously challenged.—A New Jersey-bred, a Virginia-bred and a Maryland-bred finished 1-2-3 at Belmont. It was Catalan's son, Can-Jones, who romped to the front by 5 to beat Clip Clop and Columbus Day.

Sept. 20—Drawing Post Position No. 13 was not a handicap for Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Petrify, in the 35th running of The Matron Stakes at Belmont. With a past record of only 1 defeat in 6 starts, (this in The Spinaway, won by Mar-kell), this cracking good daughter of Identify—Sag Rock offered a strong challenge to the field, including the public choice, Light Lady. Petrify remained behind in 3rd place until the final stretch when she moved up steadily on the outside and flashed to the wire with a margin of 2 lengths. Mr. Vanderbilt, as president of Belmont had earlier handed the Realization trophy to Warren Wright, owner of Whirlaway. As the owner of the outstanding 2-year-old filly of the season, Mr. Vanderbilt was presented The Matron trophy and $17,710 purse, by George D. Widener.—A 3rd straight victory since Sept. 12 went on record at Narragansett in the running of the James C. Thornton Memorial Handicap as Watch Over, the consistent son of On Watch, pulled another "never headed" in a small field of 4, carrying top-weight of 116 lbs.

Sept. 22—Carrying top weight of 117 lbs., Abrasion turned in a much improved performance in the feature Susquehanna Handicap at Havre de Grace and chalked up his 5th win of the season. This 4-year-old son of Canter was never headed as he carried the colors of J. W. Y. Martin. In the next race, which was the secondary feature, another Maryland-bred accounted, Gondalina (Challenger II—Flag Trick), driven home to best Hornblende.

Sept. 23—Maryland has rightful claim to 8 out of 14 Eastern-bred winners, 5 of them accounting for purses on the home ground at Havre de Grace and chalked up his 5th win of the season. This 4-year-old son of Canter was never headed as he carried the colors of J. W. Y. Martin. In the next race, which was the secondary feature, another Maryland-bred accounted, Gondalina (Challenger II—Flag Trick), driven home to best Hornblende.

Sept. 23—Maryland has rightful claim to 8 out of 14 Eastern-bred winners, 5 of them accounting for purses on the home ground at Havre de Grace. On Sept. 18 Sun Beau's son won his 1st start at Narragansett by a head and Last Frontier followed suit again in the 6 f., 3 & up, cl. at the meet. Miss B. F. Christmas' Gossip Miss, 2-year-old daughter of Grand Time made her initial start at Saratoga last month and chalked up her 2nd win in 3 starts at Havre de Grace.

ciplined because of it; the utter inadequacy of the discipline that is, for the most part, administered, to keep them under control; and the farther fact that the whole unseemly and scandalous situation which has resulted has come to be accepted as the "regular thing" and regarded as part and parcel of our turf routine.

Everybody knows how the inveterate offender is handled in the civil and criminal courts. During the outset of his career he is, especially if young and inexperienced, treated with leniency, given light sentences and efforts made to "show him the way he should go" and make him a law-abiding citizen.

If these efforts fail, however, sterner ones are adopted; and, should he continually be apprehended "in figurante delicto", he is dealt with accordingly.

He becomes known for just what he is—a hardened and continual offender—and, unless some pernicious "influence" is brought to bear to get him off lightly, or some "sob-sister" stuff enacted for his benefit imposes upon an inexperienced and susceptible magistrate, short shrift is allotted him.

If some such method as this were made the rule, and not the exception, in the handling of our jockeys, it would be one of the most beneficial improvements in the administration of racing that could possibly occur.

As it is, the opposite prevails. If our leading riders were stood up in a row and their records read off—the number of times that each has been penalized for improper conduct in the saddle—it would take a corps of expert book-keepers to keep track of their offenses.

As a rule, the more prominent the jockey the bigger the number of notches on his stick. He comes to regard them with indifference, not only, but actual pride.... While his following among the "fans" has come to view him more or less in the light of a hero because of his escapades.

In this way he is encouraged to "keep right on."

He knows, in no uncertain manner, that his infractions of the rules are considered "smart" by no small segment of the public; while often his employers take the same attitude.

Everybody of experience about the race tracks knows this and hears these culprits glorified and bragged about for their misdoings.

It is also common race track gossip—yes, much more than that—how a jockey in a big race—or one that is just a big betting race—will stop "little short of murder" in order to "put one over", knowing that any penalty he may be assessed will be more than made up for by those who benefit by his misconduct.

During his season on the ground he will parade around, often with a clique of parasites in his wake, like some young hero capitalizing a brilliant deed; while any cash amercement that he may incur will cost him nothing, being made good by his backers.

Until this state of affairs is rectified, things will continue to go along in the same old way. It has often been called attention to—but without in the slightest way improving it.

open classes. These were the first two classes Friday afternoon, and with this warm up, he went on to sweep the show. These wins, plus the preliminary, sent him way ahead with 24 1-2 points to take the conformation championship with a wide margin. This 5-year-old Virginia bred son of Bad Bill—Creole Girl is a lightweight liver chestnut, moves well, jumps consistently and looks like a true pleasure ride, and is a contender for recognition as one of the top show hunters of the year. He was ridden throughout the show by Miss Eleanor Leh and Robert Coneen.

His main competition was Chelsea Ruscus, owned by Mr. R. A. Van Cleef's Nydrie Stable of Esmont, Va. This nice 9-year-old chestnut, by Campfire—Misquit, piled up 14 points in the conformation and 9 in the working to take both reserve champion ribbons.

Lesser contenders for both hunter crowns were the other two Bryn Du horses. Runancarry, by Runantell—Graceful Carrie, took the blue from Jitney Jingle in the hack class. Though occasionally sticky, he moves well and fills the eye. With work, he ought to be a top horse when he is older. Muffin Man, the other Bryn Du horse, is a beautiful mover and very like Jingle. These two placed in almost every class in which they were entered.

Peter Straus' Golden Pond and Henry Yozell's Hallow Gold are two honest types, each took a number of ribbons. Chelsea Ruscus was ridden by Miss Peggy Carpenter and George Pddy.

I should like to point out the similiarity of the two hunter divisions. Two or three horses dominating both the working classes and the conformation is usual in most shows. I feel very strongly that a revision should be made in the working hunter rules. As they stand, there really isn't much point to this division.

The Plainfield show is most enjoyable. It is on Brookhollow Farm, with Mrs. Harry Frank of Warrenville the able chairman and the Arthur Nauls, Sr., and Jr., managing it most efficiently. This year it was for the benefit of the British War Relief. The War Relief motif was carried through with an exhibition of a mobile kitchen at both sessions, preceded by a bag piper dressed in traditional Scotch costume.

The hunter course is one of the best I've ever seen, and a real test to show jumping ability. Starting with the usual brush, it ran down a steep hill to a post and rail, in and out, a short gallop over a slight hill, then a stone wall with log rider, a gate, up the steep hill and into the ring, finishing with a brush. It is picturesque and seems to be more of a real hunter test than the usual dull flat course. However the fitness of the show hunter is doubtful, as a great many of the horses were laboring as they came up the final stretch.

Henry Yozell of Swampscoot, Massachusetts, dominated the jumper division with his Sergeant and Baron, who were named champion and reserve, with 13 and 10 points respectively. Sergeant has had an interesting career, was bought from a milk company 8 years ago where he fulfilled the humble duty of pulling one of the wagons. Sometimes, however, he gets bored jumping the same old silly fences as he did in the stake class. He was the final horse to jump off and only one had gone clean. He also went clean until the last fence, a single barber pole about 4'-6". Giving it one look Sergeant ducked his head, ran under it, and sailed gaily from the ring with the barber pole in his rider's lap.—Despite this unorthodox way of going round, he took 2nd to Lt. and Mrs. John Morris' Blue Moon, with his stable mate, Baron, taking the yellow. Both horses were ridden by Peter Sheridan throughout the show. Besides these two, Mr. Yozell has three hunters, Hallow Gold, whom he purchased from Micky Walsh, Lorna and Gray Wraith, a nice working type. This gelding gave good consistent performances.

In the horsemanship division William Steinkraus avenged his defeat last week at New Brunswick by George McKelvey by taking the blue in every class in which he was entered to win the championship over Lois Lisanti, with George having to be content with third place.

Rolling Rock Plans Complete For Meet

Rolling Rock's 8th annual Hunt Meeting, to be held at Ligonier, Pa., on Wednesday, Oct. 8 and Saturday, Oct. 11, is slated to be the most successful in history. Extensive improvements for both horses and spectators have been made to the course. Additional stabling facilities have been completed, which include dining rooms, wash rooms, and dormitories for the grooms and a fund has been set up to defray 50 percent of vanning expenses of all owners running horses on both days.

The Race Committee, headed by Richard K. Mellon, has not overlooked the smallest item in perfecting plans for Rolling Rock racing. The new course will enable timber runners to stay within sight of the grandstand all the way. Previously the course had gone out of view of the crowd, behind a clump of trees. The finish stretch for all races has been leveled—no more will horses be asked for their best along a sidehill slope to the judges stand.

For the first time this year, the 3-mile-timber race to be run on Saturday will be for the beautiful new cup put up in the name of the late A. M. "Bing" Byers III. This challenge cup will have a $200 replica and $400 first purse money for the winner.

ed up and swallowed the Franks town but suddenly music from the rear told us that we had taken the wrong direction and circled around in front.

The hunt was short—the hounds ran well, so the Master, Mr. Paul T. Winter, told me, and they had a successful chase accounting near Calvin orchard, having covered the Cassidy farm, City Farm, City pasture lots, and filter beds.

Saturday, September 13, 6:30 A. M.
14 1-2 couple of English and Cross-bred, 12 in the field.

The hounds were cast in the thorns above the Russell meadows and worked from there to the Five Points where they turned South through the Legion Park to the Vipond meadows and crossed back of Eldorado towards the City Farms accounting in Calvin's orchards.

Thursday, September 18, 6:30 A. M.
14 couple of English and Cross-bred, 9 in the field.

The weather was damp and hot and the hounds hunted very well over the entire home country. All the young entry and the old hounds were out and in spite of the weather seemed to be coming along in good shape.—G. P. G.

As a sample of our cub hunting, I will try to tell you about two nice runs that we have had. Thursday, September, 11th a small field met the hounds at the kennels and hacked a quarter of a mile to Trinity Church. This first covert proved that there was a fox up and out at that early hour, 5 o'clock. He led the pack to "Pine Tree" field and followed the ridge, just inside the city property, then out into the open at Ramseur's. Here the field found themselves fenced in and after finding another way, caught up with the running hounds at Dr. Muller's large covert, and here Reynard was put to ground after a 25 minute run.

Wednesday, August 17th. The meet was an hour later, 6 o'clock at the same place. Only a few gathered for this 20 minute run which took us over some nice country; these included: William Sehlhorst and his daughter, Nancy, Harriet Stokes, Miss Catherine Bosley, Frank Ober and your scribe.

The covert drawn was Northcliff Sister's Home. The trail was spotty, cold at first, and hounds worked hard they finally got off at a good pace and ran by the power line, on to Brown's and almost to the "Ma. and Pa." Rail Road; then back to Brown's Josh, Jennie, Harvey and Lucy were all out on top when viewed by the whip. Harvey and Lucy are new entries this year, and our huntsman is pleased to see them go so well. The scent was lost in Brown's woods. Hounds were taken up and we returned to eat our breakfast.

Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's GOLDEN OAK was deep here, all but to the guard rail, but went on to win The Erdenheim Cup, with H. Cruz up. Mrs. Frank M. Gould's FRED ASTAIRE, with Mr. J. Arthur riding, was 2nd, the only other starter.

Many had long relished the thought of William J. Clothier's HENCHMAN and Mrs. T. Beatty Brown's COMEDIENNE meeting up in a timber contest. They both ran in the Whitemarsh Valley feature, the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup at Erdenheim, Pa., last Saturday, Sept. 13, when HENCHMAN, with Mr. Jack Easley up was an easy winner; COMEDIENNE not relishing the hard going, finished 3rd. Lt. George Strawbridge is pictured above on John Strawbridge's BUNCTOWN, who fell after making the strongest challenge.

Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's THE DOOK, #6, won The White Marsh Cup, with Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr., up. Pictured above: Thomas T. Mott's PORT LAW, #7, Mr. Mott, Jr., up, who cut a flag; C. E. Tuttle's QUO WARRANTO, Mr. J. F. Colwill, Jr., up, who finished 3rd, back of E. F. Mechling's ABEYLARA.

Notes From Great Britain

World Would Never Have Heard Of John Peel, Were It Not For Tune Of Song

BY J. FAIRFAX-BLAKEBOROUGH

This week I am writing from John Peel's country in Cumberland. John was a hill huntsman of whom there are many counterparts today—unhonored and unsung! A very ordinary sort of man, with no more skill in enthusiasm for hunting or hounds than the generality of hill folk (who all love "a bit o' hunting"). The world would never have heard of Peel had it not been for the song, or, more properly, for the tune to which the song is set. It is the opinion of Cumbrians themselves that John Peel heroworship has been very much overdone. He actually did nothing to earn or deserve it, and the strange thing is that as time goes on those from afar are inclined to increase the exaltation even to the heights of deification in the lists of sportsmen. John Peel was buried in the churchyard at Caldbeck where I am staying, and there they sell amongst other Peel trophies pint-pots bearing his "likeness". I gather this is a very suitable memorial! There are pilgrimages from afar to the hunting-horn-emblazoned gravestone in the churchyard one of the biggest, and possibly the most hideous there.

They seem to be almost as keen on hound-trailing in this district as on hunting, and whenever I have tried to converse on foxhunting with local sportsmen they have invariably turned the subject to some local hound trail, or champion trail hound. Many of these, I find, although nominally foxhounds, have never actually hunted a fox. They are bred by and the sole property of private individuals, and are exercised in specially made canine clothing after the manner of valuable greyhounds. As a matter of fact those foxhounds which occasionally run in these increasingly popular "trails" (on which they bet like smoke in Cumberland) are usually ruined for their legitimate duty. They are apt afterwards to become wild and flashy after running the strong anniseed, turpentine, or dead fox trail for two or three miles over hill and dale. Hill hounds proper, with their hare-feet, light timber, and lighter colour, would not be looked at on the flags at Peterborough. Nevertheless they can run and hunt all day, will cast themselves when at fault, can scale stone walls which would defeat the fashionably bred hounds, can come out twice a week, and can catch and kill more wild foxes in a season than many of the swagger packs. The latter may be more picturesque and "fair to look upon"; they may conform to all the standards set down in later days as to what a hound should be; but when it comes to the proof of the pudding—the acid test—it is the Fell packs, the Border, the College Valley, and the little Yorksdale packs (such as the Bilsdale and Farndale) which produce the best results. And, mark you, there is in these countries no cubhunting to swell statistics; stopping is almost impossible; and there are not two or three well-mounted whippers-in to gallop forward to signal to the huntsman.

As a matter of fact not many huntmen will this season have the assistance of young "whips"—keen, quick-sighted, anxious to get on, and to keep in the good books of the huntsman (particularly), and the master. Even at this late hour some hunts find themselves still understaffed and are advertising for men over military age for kennel and field. Age and the slowness it often brings, will not matter much this season, for as one well-known M. F. H. put it to me the other day:

"All we old fogies will be able to do this season will be to potter about on old underfed horses, trying to kill as many foxes as we can and keeping as near hounds as possible—which often won't be very near! At any rate we'll have the satisfaction of knowing that we are, what James Pigg called, 'keeping the tambourine a-rolling' for the boys and girls who are on active service."

Then he added "This is important, for as you know, Zenophon said 'The first pursuit that a young man just out of boyhood shuld take up is hunting, and afterwards he should go on to the other branches of education provided he has the means."

I went up to Cumberland for a change of air and to recuperate from the lung and heart attack which has come annually as a legacy of gassing in the last war. The air and quiet of John Peel's country put me right to face my official duties at Lanark Races, whither I motored with the judge (Maj. L. Petch). This made things easier for me in these days when travel to race meetings is so often a struggle, a fight and a nightmare, with no guarantee that you will ever reach the course. Major Petch, however, picked me up at my house and dropped me at my door. Lanark, by the way, has been granted an additional fixture on Sept. 20th, so Scotland is not doing so badly in this chequered season.

Reverting to John Peel's country, in addition to hound trails (on which all and sundry have their wagers), this is a great coursing country too, and one of the leading lights of the leash (my old friend George Mulcaster) died only the other day. He was also clerk of the course for many years at Cartmel and Sedgefield steeplechases. He left to me an old silver flask presented almost a century ago to his father by a Cumbrian coursing club, and also an old hunting horn. The Mulcasters for generations have been associated with greyhounds, coursing and steeplechasing and George helped to establish the White City in London before going out to Germany and Spain to start greyhound racing there.

Although they have but one race meeting now in Cumberland—that at Carlisle—they used to have quite a number and are still keen Turfites, although it is said that they lost a great deal of interest in horse racing when cock fighting became illegal. Cumbrians were all great "cockers" (some of them still breed game birds!) and there were always mighty battles between cocks after all local race meetings.

Wigton Races, were run on Akehead Moor, and seem to have had long innings for they flourished in 1780 and a century later Capt. "Wenty" Hope-Johnstone, one of the best amateur riders of his day, made his first appearance in silk. That was in 1866, and this was the first race meeting he had attended. A horse called Soda Water, ridden by a horse-breaker named Gambles, came down at the brook. It so happened that "Wenty" and the owner

THE SMALL FELLOW IS FRIGHTENED

The president of a small show recently made this remark that many of his local exhibitors were not showing this year because they were afraid to compete against two large stables that had entered their horses. Discussing the dilemma, the president said, "Of course we want the big stable, but if we lose the big stable with all their entries we will be left without any entries another year because the small exhibitors have given up showing."

This is a dilemma that is faced by every good small show for a good small show invariably attracts certain large stables either for the fun of it or as a good prep for a coming event. When entries come pouring in from the large organization who practically makes a business of showing and tries to keep its earnings at least even with entry fees and shipping expenses, the spectators usually remark, "What a lucky thing for the show that Mr. and Mrs. A decided to show this year. It kept the show out of the red." But it also kept out some enthusiastic supporters, without whom there could be no show.

Small, local shows that spring up around a few devoted horsemen in a sporting community or are started by a group of the younger generation or just happen like Topsy from nowhere among local friends and neighbors for the benefit of the hunt or for charity are great fun. They are such fun that invariably they are talked about and the next year along comes the big stable and away go all of the prizes. The local owner with his sole hack is a good loser. He knows the judges were right, but next year he does not compete. The show continues to prosper without him so long as it receives the patronage of the large stable. Its difficulties begin in earnest when the stable long on horses gives up the game or decides that this year they will go to one of the larger shows.

The small show committee are between the proverbial devil and the deep blue sea with the outcome the usual limb from which to fish for entries. How to reconcile the big shot with the small pebble both of whom want to make a big splash in the same pool, requires more concentration than is given a real problem by those who make up the conditions and are usually satisfied by adopting the same ones as last year.

Shows are congenial affairs and all horsemen love to mingle with other horsemen. They are on common ground on every angle but the conformation of a horse and there the small stable of one to two honest hunters or riding stable hacks suffers to such a degree as to become the subject of a violent attack of inferiority complex. The local class is a laudable attempt to get away from the menace of too stiff competition but 95% of the time the big stable can qualify for the local class. Amateurs to ride is another attempt to iron out the difficulties of David and Goliath, as is the seldom seen, but far more interesting class of owners to ride. These help to give the little fellow a chance and keep him from being squashed by the big business of the show ring but they are not entirely satisfactory.

The whole matter boils down to the fact that small owners are the forgotten man once the big stable arrives. In reality they are more important as the foundation of the show. The riding stable group could very easily be recognized in classes for hired horses. A class for a one horse stable would be interesting. In certain communities a class for a stable without benefit of groom would fill where tack and horse's condition counted points. Classes for stables of three horses or less would catch the majority of small owners. Their horses are kept because they are good, faithful friends. To show them against a stable of 25 to 50 horses is putting their friends in an unfair light. To show them against old B. and Mrs. C. across the road is good fun. Lots of owners make a good show. It keeps up the interest. Why not provide for the forgotten man of the show ring. His entries are worth more than his admission ticket.

KENTUCKY FAIR

in the middle west. Manley Carter, M. F. H., of Orange Va., was on hand to judge the hunters. A man with a good eye for a horse as well as one with definite convictions as to what constitutes a hunting performance, Mr. Carter did a thoroughly satisfactory job, left exhibitors happy. The committee had endeavored to put owners in the right mind for show ring competition by prefacing the 1st day with a full page advertisement which read: "For when the one Great Scorer comes—to write against your name—He'll write, not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

There were 18 in the model hunter class. Mr. Carter selected Norwood, from C. V. Henkel Jr's Statesville, N. C. stables for the blue. This brown 5-year-old gelding has freshness, is a son of Swift and Sure, and can jump, winning the novice jumpers. He went over Mrs. A. E. Reuben's Hasty Lassie, from Toledo, Ohio, Douglaston Manor Farm's Retriever, from Pulaski, N. Y., and Miss Pansy Ireland's Shawnee Farm's Marcellino, a Kentucky entry, thus the model was a good example of the national representation of hunters. Entries came from 6 states, Kentucky, New York, North Carolina, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The Kentucky owned hunter class was won by Miss Anne Preston's Dusty Red, 11 entries.

Mrs. Reuben's Hasty Lassie was a consistent performer throughout the week, winning in conformation and open hunter events while her Hickory Grove took open honors. James Vernon, of Detroit, Mich., always has useful as well as conformation winning hunters. His Arcadia Le Sou took the handy hunters in a fine effort and Mr. Henkel Jr's Red Sails and Carolina Tar Boy were closest. The latter later won a good open class as a warm-up for his $500 stake in the open jumping.

When Hasty Lassie took the ladies' blue the lovely mare beat the top conformation horses of Indiana, as Miss Lucy Kaufman's Demopolis and George Sadler's Midshipman were placed back of her in order. Both are from Indianapolis. Demopolis however won the $500 hunter stake in decisive fashion when Hasty Lassie was 5th and Atakapa, of Douglaston Manor was 2nd.

In the hunt teams, Iroquois Hunt, of Lexington, Ky., took the blue, Oldham County of Louisville, Ky., the red and Hillsboro Hounds, of Nashville, Tenn., was 3rd. Misses Ann and Sally Hines were riding with Miss Barbara Bullitt for the Oldham. The Hines ladies, about 12 and 13 are nieces of Mason Houghland, M. F. H. of Hillsboro Hounds and were riding in a team representing this Nashville, Tenn., hunt. After the ribbons were awarded the winners were asked to ride about the course again for the spectators. In that Sally Hines had but one saddle, this on her horse in the Hillsboro entry, she got up bareback and rode about the 4 jumps 3'-9" with her sister and Miss Bullitt when the Oldham County had to put on the encore after the ribbon pinning act.

and heavy weight hunter class with second to Judge. The amateur jumping went to Dr. N. W. Kuch's Black Hawk with Capella second, and Miss Cary's Hurry Ashore and Scurry Off, both by Hurry Off for the third and fourth.

The show opened with a novice jumping class won by A. C. E. Reece's Dutch which victory completes Dutch's novice career as it was his third blue in a jumping class. The class held twelve entries including Hurry Ashore and L. T. Ballard's well known hunter, Monica, who like Black Hawk, above mentioned once belonged to the Genesee unit of the 121 Cavalry. Scurry Off won the light weight hunter class.

Mrs. J. P. Jones were riding, granddaughter Mrs. Robert H. Schlesinger and grand-son, the celebrated gentleman-rider William G. "Billy" Jones were winners, to say nothing of her son-in-law himself, Dr. J. P. Jones, the well known and successful trainer of the turf, of Level Best and other fame, and great-son-in-law Mr. Schlesinger who scored with his Joker. The Ellie Wood Keiths, Sr. and Jr. were riding exhibitors as Mr. A. M. Keith looked on. John S. Wise, secretary of the National Horse Show was on hand, drumming up the Garden activities, arm-in-arm with Ned King, the National manager as young Johnny Wise Jr., scored in junior competition.—The week-end was a memorable one for Farmington regulars though when it came to the hunter championship tricolor winner it remained for a Tarheel family from Rougemont, N. C. to show the way to the proudest that the Virginians could muster.

The champion hunter honors went to Mr. and Mrs. George Watts Hill's Quail Roost Farm Inky. She was an uncontested winner. Her delightful, consistent and flawless performances were a joy at Farmington, as they have been, ever since the Hills acquired her some years ago as a steeplechase prospect. So intensely fond of the Apprehension mare did the whole Hill family become that Inky was quickly shifted to less hazardous pursuits, steeplechasing was set aside, a horse show career was begun. How she has succeeded in the show ring, from the Carolinas to Connecticut in championship achievements has been easy to glean from the sporting columns.

Yet in all of Inky's spectacular showings there has never been a more gratifying triumph than that of Farmington. It has always been Mr. and Mrs. Hill's aspiration that Inky would some day arrive as a champion with their daughter Miss Anne Dudley Hill riding. This was fulfilled at Farmington. With the exception of a few classes when Quail Roost manager Delmar Twyman and Dicky Kelley rode, Inky was ridden by the Hills' 11-year-old daughter. Even when the mazuma was on the line in the stake class Miss Hill rode, Lucky Buck of the Quail Roost string as well, placing them 1-2. Derserving awards!

The judges: John Bowditch, of Wilmington, Del., Col. Sloan Doak of Ruxton, Md., and Ehrman B. Mitchell, M. F. H. of Harrisburg, Pa., had top conformation horses in front of them both days. The breeding classes, always with the hunter type stressed, were well done with quality animals. In the thoroughbred yearlings, of course for hunter type, R. A. Van Cieff's black filly, by Sickle-Key Spring, purchased at Saratoga for $6,000 with the thought of racing and later breeding for racing progeny, was placed 3rd back of William H. Lipscomb's Dunlin daughter, the Tinima filly and the On Top filly, Pine Brook Farm's home-bred Hilltown.—My Hattie colt was given the blue in his division, over Mr. Van Cieff's Dunlin—Ready, another Spa purchase.

By the time the corinthian came around on the 2nd day, Inky was 23 1-2 points along to her 29 1-2 point championship. The nearest competition came from Mr. and Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh's Springsbury Farm Big Boy, who had 8 points, then went unplaced in the pink coat class. This useful Louverne half-bred out preliminary Inky.

Mrs. Thomas Renwick's Pamuck, the ladies' winner and Miss Jamie Terrill's Step Along, wearer of the corinthian blue, and won the reserve hunter honor.

Of Pamuck, a good hunting hunter son of Sweep All, who carries Mrs. Renwick afield on Farmington drags and with neighboring packs, it may be said that he put in the ideal ladies performance to win over Inky. Pamuck and Mrs. Renwick make a perfect combination—she is one of few riders in the ring who follows a horse through with contact of the mouth over a jump, presumably bringing this style of riding from the hunting field, a style which seems long forgotten by most in the ring today, who resort to mane-pulling, hand-propping and rein-propping—distressing horsemanship at its best, however surreptitious or slight of hand it may be done. (Spectators attention: Mark your programs: MP for mane pulling; RP and HP and know your riders).

Capt. and Mrs. J. G. Minniece, Jr., had their finely mannered and beautiful jumping Trail Bird down at Farmington. They were well rewarded with a $50 1st in the jumper stake. Trail Bird has a tidy collected way of going for a big horse, he stands 17.0 hands, jumps with ease, has no wild-eyed frightened look of many open horses to be seen in the ring today, who have been forced beyond their capabilities. Trail Bird should be an ideal for emulation for all open jumper owners. Springsbury's Big Boy and Billy Do are very much like Trail Bird. All 3 of these open and working hunter horses would try to scale 6'-0", even 7'-0" if asked to do so, unless their good sense out weighs their heart.

At any rate, what the above is leading up to is that the Farmington Show was a great success, on time to the minute, until a touch of the circus was dragged in with "The Heatherbloom" knock-down and out class and an added feature effort to break the local height of this year set by Black Caddy at the Chevy Chase, Md., show in August of 6'-6 1-2". The Farmington committee had built splendid jumps and wings. The poles were wired in. When a horse brought a bar down for elimination, it was disintegration, many minutes before reconstruction.

Mrs. W. Haggan Perry, her Mayor of Shrewsbury and Gringo were champion and reserve of the open division, won "The Heatherbloom" with a successful leap of 6'-3" on Gringo. The great Heatherbloom would have blushed with shame had he to witness these high jumping efforts. Miss Margaret Cotter on her well known Rockside, after a prolonged series of assaults at 6'-7 1-4" by all the ribbon winners in the knock-down-and-out, finally scrambled over this height to set a new local mark for this season. Many were of the opinion that this class was a flop as it was, so it was highly fortunate that Rockside succeeded. The committee was of the opinion that until more horses are developed with 6'-0" ability, the open jumpers should be kept within their limitations.

Brood Mares, hunter type—1. Merribelle, by Meridian King's Bell, Mrs. J. P. Jones; 2. Hard Ale, by Out of the Way—Miss Eva, Dodsburg Farms; 3. Wee-Mot, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Schlesinger; 4. Hieuway, by Meridian Stake and Cap, Dr. J. P. Jones, 9 entries.

Letters to the Editor

Incidents Of The War

"Oldtrees"
Middletown, N. J.

Gentlemen:

I am sending you a letter which I thought might be of interest to The Chronicle. It is from Maj. Noel Furlong in England, whose Reynoldstown won the National in 1935 and 1936. In 1935 he was ridden by the Major's son, Frank, who came over to the States in the summer of '37 and visited Bobby Young in Middleburg among many other places. In '36 Reynoldstown was ridden by Fulk Walwyn who is Frank's best and oldest friend.

Frank and Pam were very good friends of mine during my stay in England. I was so excited about his narrow escape that I thought it might be of interest to you and others who knew Frank and who were interested in 'chasing and in one of the best horses that ever won that most difficult of all races.

Hoping to see you as soon as the hunt racing starts,

Tiger
(Edward H. Bennett)

Dear Eddie:

I wonder if you ever got my letter thanking you for so kindly sending us that parcel? I also sent you the 39 and 40 Chaseform and asked to let me know if you got it and I would send the 40 and 41.

We have had an awful time about Frank. He was reported "Missing, believed killed". Pam got letters of condolence from the King and the Admiralty and her pension papers. For a week no news and we had given up all hope, when we got a wire: "F. Picked up by merchant ship, home soon". You can imagine the excitement, Charlie had been brought home from school, everyone yelled and ran about like mad, poor old Mac nearly had a fit, Frank turned up next day, looking awful, very lame. He had been off an aircraft carrier in the Bismarck 'chase, ran out of petrol, had to land in the sea in the dark, in 40 m. p. h. gale, with his observer, they were in their rubber dingy for 36 hours, when picked up in mid-Atlantic, 800 miles from land. He has been home a month now and has gone up to London today for a medical board, he hopes to be passed fit, but he is not quite right, still a bit lame in one foot.

Bar this, things here have been very quiet, Rosie is in good form, all horses on grass, Charlie returned to school, after what we call our 3rd National. He has been doing very well at cricket, went in first for his house 1st eleven and made 55. He has grown a lot and is as tall as I am. I sent you a Sporting Life. Hope you got it and it interests you.

Well good luck, hope the back is better,

Noel Furlong.

Greenwich Hunters

Media, Pa.

Gentlemen:

I have just looked over the Greenwich Hunter Show prize list. This show is to be held on October 18.

The highlight of the working hunter division, which is patterned very much on the order of the hunter trials, is the Gordon Grand First Flight Plate. This class offers a trophy to the horse which the judge would pick himself to ride in the first flight of any hunt. These working hunters have to be able to gallop, stay, jump 4'-6" fences, show handiness—and horses shown in conformation classes are barred from this working division—a cracking good point. Iluminator won this class one year, then went to the Garage and won the conformation hunter laurels.

The conformation classes are not so numerous to be boring at Greenwich but include all the usual important events, held over a shorter course than that of the working. The opening jumping classes are out—they've become more or less a commercialized form of acrobatics anyhow.

This type of actual hunter show might become tremendously popular and would be a welcome relief to many from the suburban business propositions, at which an adding machine names a hunter champion and the open and saddle class championships go to who ever avoids the A. S. P. C. A. man the most cleverly.

Sincerely,
Rail Bird

Correct Record

New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

Mrs. Gibson and I have been interested in reading your article about the Smithtown Show in the September 5, issue of The Chronicle. We should like to call your attention, however, to an incorrect statement in the article, in which you say that Brian Boru was unplaced in the corinthian and that Camp passed him with more brilliancy of performance.

Brian Boru was not entered in the corinthian, because the conditions of the class were that entries must be ridden by owners and the owner of Brian Boru was at that time in New Hampshire. I thought you might like to have this information.

Sincerely yours,

Harvey D. Gibson.

Editor's Note: This error is unfortunate and we are sure Brian Boru is deserving of the correction, as is Mr. and Mrs. William H. Perry's Cornish Hills, who was erroneously referred to as not placing in the hunters under saddle on the 2nd day of Warrenton's Show. Unlike Brian Boru, Cornish Hills was entered but did not appear to take part and so did not go 2nd to Balkonian, the winner of the event in question, as stated in our Sept. 5 issue.)

Bad Blunder

Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:

The enclosed clipping from the Los Angeles Times, of July 24, expresses well a decent attitude that does exist out here, despite Mr. Geisler. This closing judgment of decency should be published, properly displayed in the East, as a constructive step towards lessening the harm done to California racing.—"Fair Minded."

(The clipping read as follows:)

In the face of the evidence presented in the caffeine case before the State Racing Commission, it seems to be established that somebody went off half-cocked. As matters stand, owners of stables who were inferentially accused, on extremely meager evidence, of an offense against good sportsmanship, stand exonerated; it is obvious they should not have been accused in the first place.

On the same evidence, five trainers are suspended. The suspension bears the ear-marks of a face-saving device on the part of the majority of the commission; it would have done better to admit it was wrong.

Blunders of this sort are obviously bad for legitimate horse racing. Chairman Geisler's "cleanup" which turned into a fizzle after starting with a fanfare is worse than no cleanup at all.

Geisler's precipitate action in thundering the charges against respected and trusted owners of fine thoroughbreds, without adequate investigation, cannot be excused. The owners have been caused unjustified embarrassment and many of them have become prejudiced against California, all because the accusations were made without good cause.

Geisler's job was supposed to be that of advancing the interests of legitimate horse racing, not persecuting innocent owners with unsubstantiated statements.

Precious Moon

San Ysidro, Calif.

Gentlemen:

I have a filly named Precious Moon, she belongs to my wife and our good friend John Riticor is directing her conditioning. He sure has her looking better than she ever did in her life. Confidentially, John is an accomplished horseman and I think he should go places if he ever gets the right kind of stock. He sure did wonders with Yammer and Flashing Steel.

Unfortunately both are victims of infirmities which occasions their inactivity quite frequently. But patience is a great virtue, particularly when a horse is a veritable cripple, and John has an abundance of what it takes.

Very sincerely yours,

W. G. Roderick.

(Editor's Note: W. G. Roderick is a well known turf commentator for the Racing Form on the West Coast.)

Built On Tradition

Racine, Wis.

Gentlemen:

You are to be congratulated on the carrying through of this wonderful organ built on traditions of this great sport (foxhunting) which again, in my opinion, is returning to its own as can be under the conditions that exist today.

I shall refer your publications to my friends as the occasions permit. It is my hope to visit at Middleburg this fall, in the hunting season, perhaps take my hunter down to Virginia, and if so, I will perhaps have the pleasure of meeting up with your people if it is possible to get away.

Sincerely yours,

F. M. Young.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Young is a member of Longmeadow Hounds, commuting from Racine, Wis., to hunt with this Northbrook, Ill., pack.)

Glendhu Bred To Bimbo III

Editor The Chronicle

The report of the Litchfield Show in your issue of Friday, August 15th, makes mention of the fact that Glendhu is in foal to "a government stud standing in Cornwall Bridge, Conn."

This is not so, as this mare is bred to the Twin Lakes Farm stallion Bimbo III.

Sincerely,

Sidney H. Scheuer

MR. AND MRS. VAUGHAN'S NEW JERSEY FAIR PLAY SIRE GETS WINNERS

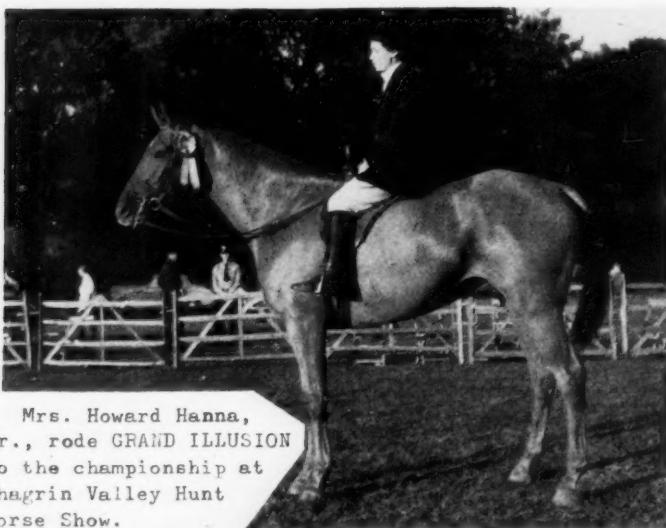

At Oak Glen Farm, near Red Bank, (N. J.) Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vaughan maintain a thoroughbred nursery, standing the FAIR PLAY horse CATALAN there. NEDDIE, acquired last fall from Mr. Kilmer's Dispersal, joined the 20-year-old CATALAN last season. CATALAN has had some 7 winners of almost 20 races out this year, from 2-year-olds to 2 mile 'chaser winners, and almost all home-bred Oak Glen Farm horses. CATALAN's dam was Imp. CATALPA, by TRACERY--CATTISH, she by MELTON--SPIEFUL, whose dam was WASPISH.

IMP. ROIGREY GOES TO FRONT ROYAL AND U. S. REMOUNT SERVICE

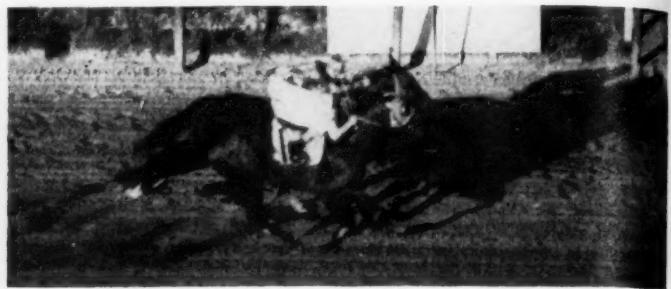

Lt. George Strawbridge, of the United States Remount, has his government interest at heart, even when off on a hunt meeting week-end, riding his BUNGTON in the White-marsh Valley Cup timber race, in which he fell when challenging the eventual winner HENCHMAN. During his stay in his home Radnor, (Pa.) country, he obtained Imp. ROIGREY, 1926, by ROI HERO--FORDINGBRIDGE, by SWYNFORD, as a gift from M. Roy Jackson, M.F.H. of Radnor, to the U. S. Remount Service. The consistent winner of Bryn Mawr and Devon stallion classes, Imp. ROIGREY has been making his seasons at Mr. Jackson's Kirkwood Farm, where his fee has been $150. Brought to this country in 1933, this sire, standing 16.2, weighing 1,400 lbs., with 8-3/4 inches of bone, has sired winners on the flat and in the show ring. The U. S. Remount will stand him at Front Royal, Va.

CHAGRIN VALLEY HUNT RING STARS--CORNISH HILLS CHAMPION--ALSAB-COLCHIS DEAD-HEAT

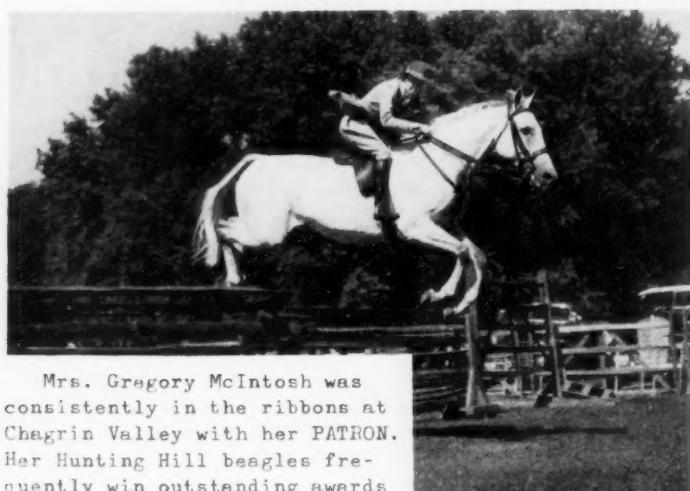

Mrs. Howard Hanna, Jr., rode GRAND ILLUSION to the championship at Chagrin Valley Hunt Horse Show.

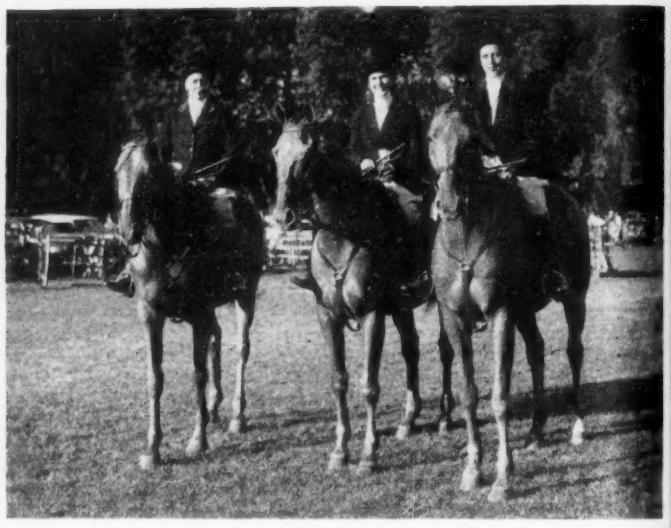

Mrs. A. Sabath's ALSAB and R. Sterling Clark's COLCHIS ran to a perfect dead-heat in the Eastern Shore Handicap at Havre de Grace for a $10,000 added purse. Below, the winning hunt team at Chagrin Valley had Mrs. J. Dean Rucker's CHARITY, Miss Geraldine Higbie up, Crispin Oglebay's HOLYSTONE, Miss Petty Bernet up and Mrs. A. S. Laundon on her SAND ARTIST.

Mrs. Gregory McIntosh was consistently in the ribbons at Chagrin Valley with her PATRON. Her Hunting Hill beagles frequently win outstanding awards in working trials.

Liseter Beagles And Mr. Gambrill's Vernon Somerset Outstanding At Radnor

The Beagle division of the Bryn Mawr Show brought out entries from five of the best packs in the country. As usual the Liseter Beagles of Mrs. J. Austin du Pont and R. V. N. Gambrill's Vernon-Somerset Beagles did most of the winning. In the 13-inch dogs unentered, Liseter Count was put over a litter brother, Liseter Driver with Waldingfield Tuner third. The entered 13-inch dogs went to Readington Foot Beagle's Duckhollow Mercury over the same exhibitor's Rockland Matador with Readington Foot Newsboy third. This sounds odd, but John Cowperthwaite, master of The Readington Foot acquired the Duckhollow which was formerly The Rockland, hence the three names in their pedigrees.

The best unentered 15-inch dog was Vernon-Somerset Cracker Jack, a very good looking young hound by V. S. Ledger-Countess that went on to win the 15-inch champion dog class over Liseter Beagles' Foxcatcher Comedy who won the entered 15-inch dogs. Vernon Somerset Curate won the big stallion class, with Foxcatcher Squire second, and also the open stallion class where he went over Foxcatcher Merrymaker. Champion 13-inch dog was Duckhollow Mercury with Liseter Count reserve.

In the couples of dogs, Liseter Beagles won both divisions, the 15-inch with Foxcatcher Messenger and Major and 13-inch with Liseter Count and Driver.

It was good to see Louis Batjer win unentered 13-inch bitches with Meadow Lark Beverley a particularly nice bitch that also took the National Beagle Club of American Challenge Cup for best 13-inch Beagle bred and owned by the exhibitor. Liseter Beagles Merry Belle Hicks won the 13-inch entered bitches, brood bitches, and champion bitch. The unentered 15-inch bitch was won by Saddlerock Swift. The entered was won by V. S. Manifest. The 15-inch brood bitch class went to Liseter Beagles Master Key Nuggets. V. S. Manifest took the 15-inch championship. In the couples Liseter won the 13-inch with Foxcatcher Careful and Countess and the Vernon Somerset won the 15-inch with Fleetwood and Hilda.

The Second Vernon Somerset Challenge Cup for the best five couples was won for the fourth time by the Vernon Somerset pack. They retired the first cup and with luck in another year they will have this one too. The Henry Kuhl Dillard, 3rd Memorial Cup presented by the subscribers of the Treweryn Beagles for the best 13-inch pack was won by the Liseter Beagles.

Five packs were shown for the various 5-couple classes The Readington Foot, the Liseter, the Buckram, Treweryn and the Vernon Somerset. What a pity more masters don't make the effort to support such a truly sporting show.

Mr. G. Kimball Clement of Haverhill, Mass., judged the two divisions of beagles most ably and entirely to the satisfaction of the exhibitors.

Five exhibitors brought Basset Hounds and succeeded in dividing the awards fairly evenly. The unentered dogs went to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Porter's Master with the Bijoux Feldspar and Lapus of Banbury Cross second and third. The entered was won by Brookdale Basset's Stanco Carlton which also was champion dog hound and with Stanco Archie won the couples class. In the bitches unentered, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Porter's Fresh won with the Brookdale Basset's Stanco Pris and Bittersweet of Reynaltown second and third. Fresh was also champion Basset with the Brandywine Basset's Felitia reserve.

The American Harriers and English Harriers were judged by Mr. E. H. Carle and Charles Smith. Champion Harrier Dog was the Cobber Hunt's Mr. Porter's Sailor with Monmouth County Hunt's Happy reserve

In the American Harrier division Mr. E. W. Clucas' Whiteoakes Harriers and Mrs. Rebecca L. Trimpi's Nantucket Harriers were the only two packs showing. Both these packs are over-size beagles. The Whiteoakes are all homebred while the Nantucket are entirely either drafted from the Vernon Somerset or at least that breeding.

Both packs were entered in the Challenge Cup presented by Mr. Clucas for the best 5-couples which the Whiteoakes won.

MAKES RACING RETURN

were only 5 starters in the 2 brush events a first rate program of 7 races was presented, and a fine afternoon of racing enjoyed,—a good omen of other afternoons to come this fall.

The high point, of course, came with the parade for The Hunt Cup. There were but 5 entries, but all started. First came John Strawbridge's Bungtown, looking fit, and with his old rider, Lieutenant George Strawbridge, now stationed in Washington with the U. S. Remount, wearing his father's familiar green and white. The long shot of the field, Bungtown attracted many a wager, particularly as there were 2 Strawbridge legs on the cup.

Then Edward M. Cheston's Coq Noir, with Mr. R. P. Hamilton up, the black son of Coq Gaulois reportedly needing a race. Then the 2 logical favorites, Henchman, appearing a little sore and running in bandages, and the cynosure, Comedienne.

These two were meeting for the first time, and the crowd seemed electrified. With Mr. T. Beatty Brown up for the 2nd time ride at the hunt meetings on his wife's mare, the outstanding timber racer of last spring, she danced up the track past the judges, obviously very high in weight, but looking very sleek and lovely. Finally came Christopher M. Greer Jr.'s Houseman, the leading money winner of the 1940 post and rail division, with Mr. Norman Cleland in the pigskin. Here was a superlative field!

Mr. Bosley let Henchman have his head, and the big black went winging into the lead, over the 1st of the 14 fences, to be five lengths ahead of the field by the 2nd, and 20 by the 3rd, sailing his jumps. Comedienne, as expected, was right after the Clothier gelding, and the crowd expected these two front runners to draw off and make their own race.

But the going was not to Comedienne's liking. Ten lengths in front of the other three at the third, she seemed to hang. Then Mr. Cleland moved Houseman up, picking 5 lengths up on the Brown mare by the 4th. But Houseman soon showed that he wanted none of the going, and it was Bungtown who went after Comedienne and Henchman though 30 lengths in the van.

Over the 6th, the last fence in the 1st turn of the infield, and into the country, Bungtown had caught and disposed of Comedienne, and set sail for the leader. This bay son of Coq Gaulois—Mary G. then made a beautiful effort, and was within 3 lengths of the flying Henchman coming back to the infield for the 10th fence. Meanwhile Coq Noir, last for the 1st mile, had made his move, and was not within 6 lengths of Bungtown, with Comedienne and Houseman following in that order.

Henchman, full of run, sailed the 10th, but Bungtown hit it hard, crashed through the top rail, and unseated Lieutenant Strawbridge. Then Mr. Bosley let his mount run, Coq Noir seemed used up by his effort, and Henchman got home by 30 lengths over the Cheston gelding, who had five on Comedienne, the latter finishing 15 ahead of Houseman.

Henchman's time of 5.21 4-5, running alone for the last mile, was but 4-5 second slower than his winning effort last year, when he was pushed by Seafarin Dan up to the final fence. Certainly he is fit for greater efforts this fall. The most improved horse in the race was Bungtown, of whom greater things can be expected. The footing probably had something to do with Comedienne, who pulled up lame.

The White Marsh Cup, another post and rail race at about 3 miles, also attracted a starting field of 5, and was much more of a contest until the last 2 fences, where mis-haps marred the result. In this event 4 of the 5 contestants held the lead at various times, and the 5th B. F. Mechling's Abbeylara, making his 1st start in this country, finished 2nd, after trailing most of the way.

The early leader was T. T. Mott's Port Law, pacesetter of last Spring's Maryland Cup. Mr. Mott Jr., kept this one in the van for the 1st turn of the infield. Going into the country and to the 7th fence, Port Law cut the beacon, but kept on, to be caught and headed at the 7th by Arthur I. Meigs' Miltiades, Mr. E. H. "Tiger" Bennett up.

The Meigs gelding showed the way over the 8th and 9th. Mr. Mott Jr. meanwhile pulled up Port Law, but once back in the infield, Mr. Sidney Watters Jr., took command with Mrs. Esther duPont Weir's The Dook 2nd, and led over the 10th. Then Miltiades came on, but both were passed going to the 11th by Mr. J. F. Colwill on C. Ewing Tuttle's Quo Warranto.

At the twelfth it was Miltiades by a half, Quo Warranto by 2 and The Dook. The Meigs color bearer went over the 13th with a length lead on Quo Warranto, who hooked and unseated Mr. Colwill. The Dook was 3 lengths behind.

Into the last it was Miltiades by 3 over The Dook, but the Meigs gelding hardly seemed to take off, crashed through the 2 top rails and gave Mr. Bennett a smasher, which resulted in a broken foot.

Mr. Watters then had no trouble in getting The Dook home a good hundred lengths over Abbeylara, Mr. Hamilton up, while Mr. Colwill remounted and finished a distant 3rd.

The Dook's victory was the beginning of a triple that afternoon for Mrs. Weir and Trainer Ryan. The Erdenheim Cup, the 2 1-2 mile steeplechase, had 7 entries, but five were withdrawn, and with only Golden Oak, the Weir entry, with H. Cruz up, and Mrs. Frank M. Gould's Fred Astaire, Mr. James Arthur in the irons, parading, not much of a race was expected.

It turned out to be a cracking contest. Golden Oak turned in a finished performance, and Mr. Arthur rode the race of his career, keeping Fred Astaire never more than 3 lengths off the Ryan-trained, getting on top going to the 12th of the 15 jumps, where Golden Oak's superior jumping regained the lead, shaking the Gould gelding up over the last three and on the turf to finish by a scant length.

Mr. Ryan saddled Binder, the recent Fair Hill winner, and Cruz climbed up to parade in the 5 horse field for the 1 1-2 mile flat race, the Iroquois Cup. The Weir Sickle gelding son disposed of Mrs. Willing Bromley's Shot Gun and E. J. Husted's Rosarium, and had the lead by the first quarter. From there in he was never headed. Jockey E. A. Russell made a strong belated rush with W. Burling Cocks' Get Out to finish second, while Rosarium beat out C. Mahlon Kline's Tarbrush for the show.

The Kline colors fared better in the 2 mile steeplechase, the Leamington Plate, in which the hard going caused the scratching of eight of the eleven entries. Here young Mr. Dixon Jr. had the mount on Our Sailor, saddled by his father, and recently 5th in the Foxcatcher National Cup. He turned in a very finished performance to take command at the 3rd jump and lead the way from there on, besting an owner-trainer, Mr. Cleland, up on his Emmas Pet, by 2. Five lengths further back came Malcolm B. Stone's Killtrap, another Dixon-trained, pulled up lame.

THE CHRONICLE

has shown steady improvement, from his early season form of losing riders.

This good field of jumpers was the largest of the New York's fall season yet. Greentree Stable's Muffed Drum, a Man o'War son, ran an improved race, finishing 3rd, though ridden all the way on the outside by Jockey Baldwin.

Redlands, named for the Redland Hunt (Md.) is one of Mr. Hitchcock's American Hunts vintage. Mr. Hitchcock names all of his horses of a certain age, with some similarity, so that he can keep their ages straight. The foals of 1938 were thus named for American Hunts. Bath named for Bath County Hunt (Va.) was first to graduate from the maiden ranks of brush horses, doing this in his first asking. Redlands had started once previously, running 2nd to Bay Dean in the North American Handicap, when he beat home The Peak by those same 12 lengths. Elkridge, a winner of the Belmont 'chase on Wednesday, September 10, of whom we'll write next week, of course was named for Elkridge-Harford Hunt (Md.).

Mrs. Clark's luck turned to the better last Friday, September 19 when Jockey F. Bellhouse got her Invader home again to win the Broad Hollow Steeplechase for the 2nd consecutive year and take the winner's share of $3,100 from Mrs. Arthur White's ever-trying but really swerving, this time, Bay Dean, by a length.

Bay Dean got away on top, made the pace, as Invader, an American-bred son of Chance Play was amenable to rating. Mr. Hitchcock's Bath, made the favorite though but a 3-year-old, was also asked to run behind and Jockey Scott had a wrestling match with the youngster, who all but went down with him when he stood back from the front of the wings, and scrambled in the water behind on landing. Bay Dean swerved and jumped out at a number of fences, costing him much valuable ground. Over the 10th he was particularly bad but he came again, only to be headed by Invader, a winner of the Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap in his previous outing, when he won

LIMITED RISK

N. Y. was a consistent winner throughout, starting with the model and going straight through to the championship, winning the hunter stake enroute. Some questioned the decision in the stake class as Belle Valley Farm's Surclipse, from Erie Pa., had an outstanding performance, against a not too good one by Miss Cary's horse. However, Mr. Thomas M. Baker, of Derby, N. Y. thought the conformation of Limited Risk carried him above Surclipse.

In the amateur jumping class, Miss Beverly Brennan, of Bradford, Pa., rode her great horse Question, to victory over Ridgewood, also of Belle Valley Farm (owned by H. L. R. Emmet) but actually owned and ridden by Miss Helena V. C. Emmet of Erie, Pa. It was interesting to see the Belle Valley Farm horses placing over such good ones as Question and Little Thunder in the open events, though never shown in open classes before.

Miss Emmet and Dan Lenehan were up on Ridgewood and Surclipse to win the pairs of hunters, besting Limited Risk and Lough Lorne of Miss Cary's barn.

$3,250 in his 2 1/2 mile effort, beating Fay Cottage and Chaloner easily.

This was Invader's 2nd win in the Broad Hollow, having beaten such good ones as Gay Charles and Good Chance in 1940, when he carried 130 pounds, and did the course in 3:53. His time of 3:47-2-5 was considered a good effort under conditions this year, carrying 140 pounds. Trainer Dolly Byers was present for the presentation of the trophy in the absence of Mrs. Clark.

It is considered that Bath took much out of himself in his mistake, and in being rated off the pace, though he did get to the top at the half for a spell. He finished a weary youngster. Montpelier's Placement was the only other of the field of 5 to finish, with Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's Larchfield coming a cropper at the 6th.

Mill River's Stable Fire Light, purchased primarily to win the first running of the William Street Memorial Steeplechase at the United Hunts meeting last spring, has proved a good investment for Mrs. Barclay Douglas. With G. Walker riding, the Our General was the best of the 5 who started in the Bushranger 'chase last Saturday, carrying all but top weight of 150, and giving weight to all others with the exception of S. Bryce Wing's Broadside King, 153, who lost his rider, T. Roby at the last, when he, the favorite, was running 3rd. Fire Light was a winner all the way and eased up at the end.

Aquaduct 'Chasing

Silliman Evans, the successful publisher of a Nashville daily, soon to hook up with Marshall Field, well known turf owner, and go to Chicago to put out a new sheet in competition with the Chicago Tribune, (the isolationist paper), enjoyed a win with Killmallock and the veteran A. Bauman up, the last day of Aqueduct. Killmallock purchased last spring by Mr. Evans with a view to winning the 1st running Iroquois Memorial Steeplechase in Nashville an even race to best Mr. Hitchcock's Notley by 1 1/2 lengths. Killmallock was a winner over timber at Sandhills last spring, when he won the 3 mile Sandhills Cup feature there, and then suffered a bad fall, hurting his back, in his final prep for the Nashville event. In his place was leased Santi Quaranti who failed in the 3 mile effort out there.

Killmallock, an Irishman, was brought to this country by Mrs. Mary Jackson as a show prospect. He has run the gamut of many owners, once

Mile-Away Stables Capture Awards At Abingdon

The annual Abingdon (Va.) Horse Show, held September 5-6, saw Mile-Away Stable's hunters and jumpers, fresh from their Labor Day winnings in Johnson City, Tenn., sweep the hunter and jumper classes taking all the blues. With Mrs. W. O. Moss up, Dark Victory took the conformation championship award.

In the knock-down and out, due to slippery footing after a solid day of rain, and the ring was red clay, the jumps only went 5'-0". Moon Fixer and Lady Durham were both clean at this height, with Mrs. Moss on the former and Mr. Moss riding Lady Durham. A coin was flipped in favor of Lady Durham. The 3rd ribbon was tied up between Mrs. W. S. Miller's Forrester, of Sarasota, Fla., with Mr. Moss riding and Billy L., owned and ridden by Dr. Harry M. Hayter. In the jump off, Forrester was the winner, Billy L., having a carrying Montpelier's colors, but did not return a winner until W. G. "Billy" Jones owned him and started him in the Sandhills Cup. J. P. Smith was the trainer of the 7-year-old Pompeano gelding, who discounted Mr. Evans' training bill to the extent of $1,000.

Robert Young Host At Allentown's Benefit Show

For the first time in its six year's history, the Allentown Horse Show, sponsored by the Woman's Club to benefit its various charities, held a two day affair this past week-end, September 13th to 14th. Blessed by beautiful clear and cool days, there was quite a good entry, though attendance fell off a bit on Sunday, due no doubt to the opening of famous Lehigh County Fair, besides the Kennel Club's recognized Show, all going at the same time. It would be interesting to learn whether or not most exhibitors and spectators at small shows prefer two short days of showing, or a long concentrated one, with a few of the very similar classes eliminated. This at least would make for greater variety.

Nevertheless, judges of hunters and jumpers, Mrs. Edward M. Ches-ton and W. Newbold Ely, M. F. H., both of Ambler, Penna., and Harry Hess, over from Hohokus, N. J., to judge saddle classes, were consistent, and genially assisted by John Eisen-brown of Reading, who is quite a fixture hereabouts as ringmaster.

On Saturday, out of eighteen classes, it was interesting that ten were won by the younger generation, the few ponies appeared in either horsemanship or jumping classes. Honors went to Blue Bell Farms, Dick Young, Miss Jill Landreth, and the Misses Janet and Elinor Leh. Open jumping classes were dominated by Lloyd van Sciver's Storm Signal, and the deniable Bucks High Boy of Dr. Hunsberger. The latter combination placed third this year in the novel Veteran's class, for riders over fifty; it was won by Mrs. J. Ward Crankshaw riding a saddle horse, and second went to J. E. McCracken on a pinto in full Western trappings.

Of the hunters, two entries of Jack Prestage, Destiny Rose and Clare's Toy won several good classes as did Irish Grey, owned by Robert Young, who again was host for the show. Saldan, Miss van Sciver's lovely chestnut, won the corinthian from a class of thirteen, including the well-known Houris. There was no championship.

It would be hard to find a more ideal setting than that of the Allentown Horse Show. It is held each year on the farm of Robert A. Young which is in a beautiful little valley that makes a natural amphitheater. Along one side of the outside course flows the Little Lehigh river flanked by beautiful old oak trees, and the course is in perfect view of the spectators both in the stands and on the coach and fours, and also those sitting on the hillside. It was a two day show and the classes were very well filled, some of them running well over 40 entries. Classes went off like clock-work and the awards were very well received. On account of the hard going due to the drought many of the horses did not perform consistently, scattering the ribbons pretty well—which is just as well in any show. The awards were as follows:

Quaker Neck Team Best Performers At Kent Trials

Outstanding of the nine hunt teams competing in the feature event of the Kent County Hunter Trials at "The Reward", farm of Edward A. Hurd, on Thursday, September 11, was the Quaker Neck Hunt Team. This trio of chestnuts, Highball, owned and ridden by Edward A. Hurd, Middleton, owned by Mrs. L. R. Blackhurst, Jr., and ridden by Miss Marian Grieb, and Miami's Queen, owned by Charles P. Stokes, and ridden by Warner Brockson, turned in a beautiful performance over the stiff 11 jump course of nine-tenths of a mile.

The Hunter Trials were the 17th annual event of the Kent County Horse Assn. (Md.) and drew horses from as far as Salisbury, which sent entries from the stables of Mrs. George C. Bounds, Messrs. Vaughn and William Richardson and H. Lay Phillips. These represented the Wicomico Hunt and the Willowbrook Hunt.

The judges were Major General Guy V. Henry, retired, former Chief of Cavalry of the United States Army; Janon Fisher, President of the Maryland Horsebreeders Association, and prominent trainer of race horses; John P. Bowditch, former master of Millwood Hunt and Secretary of the Delaware Turf Club; and Edward H. Carle, former Master of Smithtown Foxhounds. Twenty-five Dollar Defense Bonds were given as first prizes; tack for second and third.

The first event, for hunting ponies ridden by children of fifteen years and under, was won by Miss Marlan Morris on her Lady Grey. King Cole, owned and ridden by Miss Carter Middleton of Centreville, was 2nd and Gadget, owned by Miss Peggy Austin, ridden by Larry Austin, took 3rd.

After the pony class the course was changed to nine-tenths of a mile over eleven jumps, including two post and rails, a hitchcock, an in-and-out, post and rail with ditch, a pyramid of three telephone poles, and a gate. Green hunters were first over the course. First place was taken by the brilliant four-year-old chestnut gelding Star News owned by Miss Helen Phillips of Salisbury and ridden by Charles Cann. Second in this class went to Miss Pete owned and ridden by Miss Betty Fox of Centreville.

The open and qualified hunters brought out a field of 25 starters. It was the most closely contested event of the afternoon, as well it should be with horses fresh from the hunting field. Seven horses made a perfect performance. The judges finally chose Seagull, a grand going grey from the stable of Aubrey D. Hutcheson of Centreville, owner up, for the blue. Red went to Middleton, ridden by Miss Marian Grieb, and the yellow to King James owned and ridden by Vaughn Richardson of Salisbury.

The children's hunter class, to be ridden by children 16 years and under, was won by Killarney, one of C. C. Mickle's hunters, ridden by Miss Patricia Mickle. She was hard pressed to beat King Cole owned and ridden by Miss Carter Middleton. King Cole is a small pony and negotiated the difficult course for horses in a very creditable manner. Henry Jones Coon Tail, ridden by Jackie Miller, won 3rd.

The final event was for hunt teams of three horses. One of the only two mishaps of the day occurred in this class when Miss Dorothy Anne Wheelton riding King James in the lead of the Wicomico Hunt Club trio was thrown very hard at the first jump. The Quaker Neck team was by far the best in the ring-side opinion of the large crowd of spectators, as well as that of the judges. Misses Marian Grieb, Joan and Barbara Kellogg-Smith accounted for 2nd as the Comegys' Bight team mounted on Miss Penn, Christopher and Antonia. Mr. Wilbur Ron Hubbard took 3rd with his Kent County Hunt team of Leading Lady, Royal Prince and Hope R., the last two ridden by James Bailey and Arthur Browne.

Even though they did not place it would be unfair not to mention the Queen Anne's team. This team was composed of Mrs. C. C. Mickle of Centreville on Killarney and her daughters, Misses Anne and Patricia on Trooper and Scotsman. It was a pleasure to see one family riding in event of this kind as a unit.

Millbrook Trials Call For Comment And Commendation

Excellent Hunter Test Tries Ability Of The Best As Seceder Stands Out

BY BETTY BABCOCK

To be asked to jump from the frying pan of judging the Millbrook Hunter Trials into the fire of publicly commenting upon them is positively cruel.

What do judges know anyhow? The smart ones at best know the value of concealing their abysmal ignorance with a sphinx-like silence and a blank expression.

"Write of your reactions to the event" so read my orders from the editor of The Chronicle. Taking him literally these ran the gamut from apprehensive indigestion, through delight to complete exhaustion. However, it seems possible the readers of this sporting sheet would be slightly more interested in the Millbrook Hunter Trial course, the horses, their performance and the reactions of the judge to these.

The course was laid over a fine stretch of country, in a rolling valley below a high hill. Every fence but one was native to the terrain and all were clearly visible. The distance was about three-quarters of a mile and all but the Groom's Sweepstakes called for a hunting pace. Though there were some variations in the running of the course, the working hunters going a shorter course than the first flight, a description of the longer course will be sufficient. The horses galloped across a level stretch of grass by the judge's stand to the first fence, timber of moderate size, then swung sharp left and uphill over a big rail fence set on an angle. On up the hill then circling left straightened out and jumped a fair sized fence and on down a steep hill to a sizable rail fence at the bottom. Here they pulled up, dropped the top rail and flipped over. Then up hill again over a wall with a rider, and landing, turned at right angles and jumped two small fences, a stride apart. Turning left handed they galloped into an upstanding rail fence past the judges into and over a big chicken coop and turning left handed again drew up at the first fence, dismounted, dropped a rail, led over, remounted and galloped to the judges stand.

As to the course, I can count on the fingers of one hand the horses in my own country which might have negotiated it without disgracing themselves. It called for a good mover, a good fencer and a horse with intelligence, experience and manners. I never saw a better course to test a hunter.

Naturally the calibre of horse shown was high. I suppose I saw in all some thirty-five horses and only two of these gave me heart failure at their jumps. A better lot of honest, able hunters would be hard to find in any country. As a judge knows the name of no horses, only their numbers and as this particular Judge knew few of the owners and brought home no program the following data is the best that can be given under the circumstances.

In the working hunter class the horses taking the first three ribbons would not have been placed in this final order had the judge not ridden them all. On smoothness of performance over the course No. 53 (My Boast, owned by Dr. A. Benson Cannon, 2nd) and No. 23 (Drum, owned by Schoonhoven Farm, 3rd) had a shade on No. 71 (General Martin, owned and ridden by Everett L. Crawford) the eventual winner. However, when I rode this trio No. 71 was so much better balanced and mannered there was no question of which was the pleasantest and safest horse to hounds.

The same procedure was followed in the two division class. Half-bred and thoroughbred not shown over fences. Again from the ground, in the half-bred division, the first two horses would have exchanged places but from the saddle the gray proved to be far the better ride.

In the thoroughbred division, the ground and saddle findings were identical and I regret that this lightweight bay horse who carried himself so well did not appear in any of the trials over fences.

The "First Flight" trial for the Millbrook cup had nine entries and seven clean performances. There was however, no difficulty whatsoever in picking the winner and I remember his name because I never saw or swung my long legs over a better horse.—Seceder is his name. A strongly set up big chestnut thoroughbred with a raking shoulder and a way of moving which is first cousin to a swallow. He moves effortlessly and takes every fence in his stride. His manners are impeccable and he is so unmistakably stamped with "Class" that he made the other good horses appear less good than they were.

The last three horses in this class also underwent some readjustment of awards when ridden but they were all good horses, very good ones.

The hunt teams numbered four and the performance put up by Mrs. Colt's team had the judge puzzled for the first few minutes. They started forth in a certain order then at every second fence of the first six, the leading horse was swung around to the tail position without change of pace or spacing. Going up the hill to the seventh fence they drew abreast and took it in the same stride then drew out again to their original positions and finished over the last two fences in that order. A more finished performance could not have been produced by the graduates of Weedon, Sanmar or Fort Riley. They deserved to win, so being judge, I saw to it that they did.

My final "reaction to the events" was gratitude and if you wish to know why, go to Millbrook.

John B. Merryman, of Maryland, who has ridden in the Maryland Hunt Cup for the past two years, having to get special permission to get away from Exeter Preparatory School, should have a little more freedom next spring, for Cornell University claims him now.

Keiffer Disperses

Thirty-four thoroughbreds, including broodmares, yearlings and weanlings, will go under the hammer of auctioneer Joe Bond on Monday, (September 29) at the dispersal sale of Leslie E. Keiffer and Partners, to begin at 2:30 P. M. at Inverness Farm, on the Manor, near Monkton, Md. Included in the lot, the sale of which will mark the break-up of Mr. Keiffer's breeding business for good, according to reports, is listed the 7-year-old bay stallion Charing Cross, nine broodmares, eleven yearlings and twelve yearlings. Jean Bart, another stallion who has been standing at Inverness for several seasons, will not be sold, but will be shipped to Kentucky for his next season. No reserves have been set, and the entire lot will be sold. The farm itself is also reported for sale, privately. It is understood that Mr. Keiffer finds himself kept in New York steadily nowadays by his business (Cotton Exchange) and wishes to unburden himself of the responsibility of Inverness Farm.

Myopia Hunt Masters

Bayard Tuckerman and Frederic Winthrop were elected joint-masters of Myopia Hunt this year. Mr. Winthrop will have full charge of the drag hounds and Mr. Tuckerman will devote himself to the foxhunting pack. The Quassett Hounds, (William Almy, Jr., and Mr. Tuckerman, Jr.,) were first invited to hunt fox in the Myopia Hunt country, about Hamilton Mass., in 1939. Myopia's masters succeed Gordon C. Prince, 1936, ex-master. In an article on Myopia Hunt's 45th Horse Show, appearing in The Chronicle issue of Sept. 12, it was erroneously stated: "the pack paraded about the ring with Frederick Prince, master." This should have of course been Frederic Winthrop, master.

Called to Maneuvers

Col. John Wall, ex-United States Remount, has been called back into the service for active duty with the First Army during fall maneuvers in the Carolinas. If his services are terminated in time, he hopes to be back to his "pet" Charles Town in December where he serves as steward.

Miss Dickinson's Garrynamona

Anne Dickinson, daughter of the Phil Dickinsons of Chestnut Hill, Pa., is a real "chasing enthusiast" as well as a familiar figure with the Whittemarsh drag hounds. Her good Garrynamona by the Duke of Buckingham—Souplesse is expected to go at Huntingdon Valley on October 4th. Trained by R. E. McDevitt, Garrynamona will have Jimmy Arthur up as an amateur, and will run in the 2 1/2 miles over brush. Dick McDevitt has good one entered in the King's Oak 'chase, 2 miles over brush in the 6-year-old son of Playfellow—Meritit, Blenny. David Williams will run Blue Larkspur again at Huntingdon Valley for Mrs. David Williams after his win for the Caldwell Vase at Whittemarsh.

It Comes in Three's

Jack Skinner had hard luck last week at Belmont. It must come in three's, for first Mandingham popped a suspensory in a pastern, and is out of the Belmont $15,000 Grand National; then Meeting House was all but cut through a back tendon when another horse struck him the day S. Bryce Wing's Balk won the Autumn Bells 'chase, and finally a crushing blow, Congo Prince in a school, put in a short one, stepped into the top of a hedge and compound fractured a fore leg. All were Rokeye Stable "chaser color-bearers" of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mellon. Bad news travels quickly and word has it that Allan M. Hirsh's "chasing winner" Surtax, in the training hands of Henry Frost, Jr., lost his rider in a school last week at Belmont, ran loose to fall and break both front legs. This was not immediately determined, but showed up in X-rays. The Belmont infield has been cement like in hardness—there's no watering system like they had at Aque-duct, which worked so successfully.

Monmouth County Notes

The Junior Committee of Monmouth County Hunt (N. J.) met recently and discussed plans for the coming season. They are planning to put on a paper chase cross-country some Sunday morning in benefit of the Hunt's paneling.—Bud McCue, always a keen follower, was inducted into the U. S. Army. He expects to be sent to Ft. Leavenworth.—Cubbing has started with Monmouth County Harriers. Hounds have been out every Saturday for over a month. Due to truck-gardening in most of the country, the meets have all been at the kennels. Fox only has been hunted.—Mrs. Amory L. Haskell was elected treasurer of the Hunt to replace Wilbur B. Ruthrauff, whose death last winter was a shocking loss to sport.

Alliquippa Farms Delightful Show For Real Hunters

BY W. NEWBOLD ELY

The Alliquippa Farms held another of their delightful shows last Sunday. Ruth and Ned Neilson are always charming hosts and the show reminds one somewhat of the Sharp's Up Country Show in that the horses and riders are all from the fields of the local hunts and are actual "working hunters" rather than representatives of the strings of circuit show horses.

It was a balmy, sunny day but with the ground still as hard as asphalt from the month's draught of the middle Atlantic seaboard. The worst according to veteran farmers in twenty years. Springs which have never before failed are dry and most streams are now only dry parched gullies.

George Brooke of Birdsboro, Pa., and Dr. Ben Price of West Chester formed a most competent judging team, and the classes went off with such dispatch that the whole show was over well before five although it did not start until one.
